

Notice of Upcoming Public Consultation

We invite you to join us at an upcoming public meeting for the Waterfront Transit "Reset" Phase 2 Study.

The Study

The City of Toronto, in partnership with the TTC and Waterfront Toronto is undertaking a multi-phase review of waterfront transit needs and options from Long Branch to Woodbine Avenue, known as the Waterfront Transit "Reset" Study. Phase 1 of the study was completed in 2016.

Phase 2 is currently underway and will establish directions to advance a network solution.

How to Participate

Join us at one of the following public meetings to learn about and comment on the preliminary results of Phase 2.

Monday, September 18, 2017

6:00 pm - 8:30 pm

Harbourfront Centre
Brigantine Room
235 Queens Quay West

Tuesday, September 26, 2017

6:00 pm - 8:30 pm

The Assembly Hall
Performance Hall
1 Colonel Sam Smith Park Drive

Open House 6:00 pm / Presentation 6:30 pm / Facilitated Open House at 7:30 pm

The same information will be available at each meeting. Please choose the location convenient to you.

The presentation, public meeting materials and an online feedback form will be available on the project webpage after the first meeting.

Visit: www.toronto.ca/waterfronttransit.ca

Contact Information

If you have specific accommodation requirements or would like more information about this project, please contact the project community liaison office.

Niki Angelis, Community Liaison Officer

416-410-3888 ext. 714

nangelis@lura.ca