

CONSTRUCTION NOTICE: Northbound Lane closure on Cherry Street from Lake Shore Boulevard to north of the Lakeshore Rail Corridor

November 25, 2015

Waterfront Toronto is closing the northbound lane of Cherry Street from Lake Shore Boulevard to just north of the Lakeshore East Rail Corridor starting on Thursday, November 26 until December 23, 2015.

As noted in previous communications, this construction is required to complete the sanitary forcemain from the sanitary pumping station north on Cherry Street to the existing sanitary sewer just north of the rail corridor. This vital piece of infrastructure will serve the broader waterfront. Now that final approvals from various agencies have been received, work on this sanitary forcemain can begin.

WHAT TO EXPECT

Cars

Cars travelling westbound on Lake Shore Boulevard will not be able to turn northbound on Cherry Street. The southbound lane of Cherry Street will remain open and all other turning movements will be available at all times.

Detour signs will be installed on Lake Shore Boulevard East for westbound drivers and will direct drivers to Parliament Street for northbound access.

Transit

The Cherry Street 172 bus will be rerouted. Rather than proceeding north on Cherry Street, the bus will travel west on Lake Shore Boulevard to Parliament Street, and north on Parliament Street to Mill Street, where TTC will set up a temporary stop. As a result, the bus stop on the north side of Mill Street at Trinity Street will be out of service during the closure.

TTC will install detour signs. TTC staff will also be on site during the Toronto Christmas Market to direct transit users to the temporary stop on Parliament Street.
