Purpose | For Information
---|---
Areas of note/ Key issues | Waterfront Toronto hosted four public meetings between July 15 and July 23, 2019 as part of its first round of public consultation on the Draft Master Innovation and Development Plan (MIDP) submitted by Sidewalk Labs on June 17, 2019 and shared with the public by Waterfront Toronto on June 24, 2019.

Each meeting had between 100 and 200 people participating, with about 600 participants across the four public meetings. The representation was diverse, with about 10-15% of people at each meeting indicating that it was their first meeting related to Quayside, while others had been watching (and participating in) previous Quayside-related discussions. There were interested residents, community organizers, tech experts, leaders of organizations from the non-profit and private sectors, students, academics, representatives of labour, public servants, and many others with a range of perspectives on the project.

The meetings were 3 hours in length and organized to include less than one hour of presentation time and over 2 hours for questions, feedback and discussion by participants. Four breakout rooms were hosted at each public meeting focusing on each volume of the Draft MIDP, with a separate room for Digital Innovation, Digital Governance, and intellectual property. Each breakout room had between 3 and 4 smaller table discussions, and each table had a representative from Waterfront Toronto and one facilitator. There were 15 small table discussions at each public meeting, or 60 in total.

In addition, there were 1,081 visits to the online consultation survey tool.

Draft summaries of the meeting proceedings were sent to participants for their review before being finalized and feedback was received on August 26, 2019.

Next Steps | An Integrated Overview Report combining feedback received at the four consultation meetings, via the online survey and received through written submissions will be sent to the Waterfront Board of Directors for information on September 10, 2019 and released to the public on September 12, 2019.
Purpose

For Information

Areas of note/Key issues

The Digital Strategy Advisory Panel (DSAP) has prepared its’ Preliminary Commentary and Questions (attached as Appendix A (CONFIDENTIAL)) document to help identify questions and concerns regarding the digital innovation and digital governance-related proposals. These include, but are not limited to:

- Overall, the MIDP is not sufficiently specific about critical areas of its digital innovation proposals in many areas.
- Further information is required to show how digital innovations will support Waterfront Toronto’s goals for Quayside.
- The development of overarching data governance mechanisms should be shifted to Waterfront Toronto and its government partners.
- The current proposals related to intellectual property and economic development are not sufficient and further commitments should be made about enabling the growth of the local urban innovation industry.

The Preliminary Commentary will be released in the week of September 9, 2019.

Resolution or Next Steps

DSAP Panelists anticipate the receipt of supplemental information from Sidewalk Labs in response to the report, including a reconciliation document that clearly describes whether and how the comments and questions provided have been addressed in the final version of, or addendum to, the MIDP.

The DSAP will engage in a full review of all elements of the MIDP (and any relevant contextual considerations) which fall within the expertise of the panel during the formal evaluation period. It is expected that this will result in a number of recommendations to Waterfront Toronto management. This review will also be made public as per their mandate.

Sidewalk Labs is preparing a Digital Innovation Appendix to the MIDP and will also be attending the September 12, 2019 DSAP meeting to discuss this in more detail.
ON MOTION duly made by [●] and seconded by [●] and carried, it was RESOLVED that the Minutes of the Closed Session of the IREQ Committee meetings held on May 30, 2019 and June 14, 2019 be approved as tabled.
