WORKSHEET – Urban Design Guidelines/Transportation Master Plan

Draft Proposed Principles and Goals

List goals or aspirations for the neighbourhood and transportation network (where applicable) in each of these areas. Why are they important?

Ease of Movement

(e.g., getting to/from the precinct is easy – consider local, citywide and active transportation; ways to move through the area; north-south connections to downtown and waterfront)

Diversity of Uses

(e.g., variety of residential, work, retail and entertainment uses at all times of day and within walking distance)

Well-loved Public Places

(e.g., active public places for denser areas; network of inviting and active streets and pedestrian routes/bikeways)

Pedestrian Comfort

(e.g., sunny places for people to sit and gather; wind protected outdoor places during all times of year)

Visually Interesting Urban Form

(e.g., different types of buildings; view corridors and tower placement that maximize views and minimize negative impact on public space)
